

To Whom It May Concern:

I have worked with Chad Murphy-Price in different capacities for the past four years and am unendingly impressed with his work, attitude and presence.

Chad worked on a website of which I was a part and his work was always professional, prompt and impressively done. He created a website from the ground up and each part of it was of high professional quality.

Chad also volunteered and later worked at a Youth Leadership Summit that I coordinate each year as a guest speaker, panelist and coordinating member. He is always extremely well received by his audiences and well-liked by participants and staff alike.

When he speaks to a group, he uses a combination of well-versed knowledge and a sense of humor that is both captivating and educational.

I would recommend Chad highly for any job, be it event organizer, web designer or motivational or informational speaker.

Sincerely,
